RUSSIANS CHECK JAP ADVANCE.

Kuropatkin Reports Minor Successes, which have a Quieting Effect on the Populace—Negotiations Opened Between the Opposing Commanders.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 28th.—Gen. Kuropatkin reports that the Russian troops at 7 p. m. on January the 26th after a desperate fight occupied the village of Sandpas, which has been strongly fortified by the Japanese.

Negotiations Opened.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 28th.—The censor has allowed the morning papers to publish a despatch to the effect that Kuropatkin has opened negotiations with Marshal Oyama.

Engagement Began Yesterday.

Berlin, Jan. 28th.—A despatch to the Local Anzeiger from Mukden today says:—"A general engagement began yesterday and continued to-day. Already the losses on both sides are considerable. The fighting is especially heavy at the centre."

Strike May Break Up.

London, Jan. 28.—Indications point to a disintegration of the strike movement in Russia. Several large factories in St. Petersburg re-opened yesterday, and a general resumption of work Monday is expected by employers.

General Kuropatkin's report of the successes of his latest forward movement seems to have been admired in St. Petersburg, and added to the importance of being a check to Japs' advance. This has had some effect toward quieting the uneasy population. In many cases the workmen seem to be converted to the idea that their reliance for remedy is in the Government. At Warsaw yesterday there were serious collisions between workmen and soldiers, and the reports give the casualties as two killed and seven wounded. The strike at Libau continues. There has been no change in the situation at Moscow, Saratoff, and Leodz. There is great fear of trouble at Iuanovo Vozscansk, the foremost cotton goods manufacturing town in the Empire. The ending of the strike will but result in increased activity on the part of the revolutionists.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL.

As the country surrounding Edmonton is now organized into local improvement districts under the new system the action taken by the several councils will be of important public interest. It is particularly desirable that the taxpayers and property owners of each district should know from time to time what is being done by their councils and from the point of view of the council, it is also desirable that their action should be properly understood. The publication of the minutes of the council meetings in the Bulletin is the readiest available means whereby these objects can be attained. The Bulletin will be glad to publish the minutes of all council meetings if forwarded by the secretary-treasurer, so that there would be the assurance of his official position that the minutes were correct.

In case the minutes should be very long it might be necessary to condense by giving only the conclusions reached, but whenever possible the complete minutes as furnished will be published.

of Steady Cold Weather

If it was to last only a few days or weeks, then any kind of a Heating Stove would tide you through, but for a long spell of cold weather where you need your house warm night and day there is no Stove on the market so well adapted for heating as the

"Riverside Oak"

It will heat two rooms at once. It has a hot air pipe attachment and it will take the cold air from the floor, heat and distribute it into any room the Hot Air Pipe is carried into, without burning any more fuel. It burns equally well Coal or Wood and the price is very low considering its efficiency and economy.

Ross Bros. Limited have handled this Stove for a long time and can conscientiously recommend it as sure to please. Have you seen the New Steel guaranteed all Steel and Malleable Iron. The top of this Range is ground to a finish, just the same as a Fry Pan or Kettle and can be used for Frying and Toasting just the same as a French Top Range. The Ovens are the most uniform of any Ranges made. The water fronts are so modelled that they will heat twice the water of an ordinary Range. It burns either Wood or Coal equally well and will heat up quickly and on a less quantity of fuel than any other range made.

Took Poison in Beer.

Calgary, Jan. 27.—Last night a suicide of a sensational and unusual character was carried out, when W. A. Bryan, of Cardston, put an end to his life by taking strychnine mixed in a glass of beer.

Bryan took the deadly poison in his room in the Imperial hotel last night about 9.30.

It appears as if the suicide was carefully pre-arranged. Bryan went up to his room and locked himself in. He then must have deliberately sat down and written his last letter on earth, to his wife.

Then followed the drinking of the strychnine laden lager, which proved so terribly effective in its results.

Bryan seems to have speedily regretted his rash act, for he succeeded in attracting the attention of those in the hotel, who broke into the room and found the man in a terrible condition.

Bryan admitted that he had taken poison, regretted the act, and seemed desirous that all possible should be done to save him from death.

Constable Mackie and D. S. MacKil and Crawford were at once summoned but the man was beyond the aid of the most skilled physicians, dying about 15 minutes after having taken the poison.

Little was known about Bryan, as he was a stranger to the city, having only been in from the south for a week or a little more.

LADY MACCABEES

INSTALL OFFICERS.

One of the pleasing events in fraternal circles of the past week was the open installation of officers given by the ladies of the Maccabees Wednesday evening, Jan. 25. Every seat was occupied in Sandison's Hall, and a general air of expectancy on every countenance, and nobody was disappointed when twelve young ladies gowned alike (black skirts, white waists and red ties) entered the hall with shining and beribboned spears, to the march ably executed on the piano by Lady MacFranklin.

Lady Josephine H. Desilets, Deputy Supreme Commander was escorted to the executive chair with due ceremony, Lady Ella, Meridith and Lady Loretta Manchester of Rossland No. 5, assisted the Deputy Supreme Commander and the guards to install the officers which were as follows:—

Lady Matilda B. Deyl, Past Commander,
Lady Mary E. T. Hodge, Lady Commander,
Lady Margaret Iverson, Lieutenant Commander,
Lady Laura H. Munson, Record Keeper,
Lady Margaret McArdy, Finance Keeper,
Lady Susan H. Springfield, Chaplain.

The guards were Ladies Adams, Hook, Johnston, Halliday, Kendall, Schaefer, McDonald, Nelson, Logan, Clark, Pascoe and Clark. After giving the Maccabee Drill they were the recipients of many congratulations. Local talent assisted the hive with the programme.

A beautiful Battenburg, centre-piece was an exhibition which had been presented to the hive by Lady Deyl, to be raffled for the purpose of procuring a set of hive banners.

The new framed Charter and pictures of the Supreme officers were admired by all present. Three applications for membership were secured.

THE PROPOSED DAIRY LICENSE.

TO THE EDITOR.

Edmonton Bulletin.

In the proceedings of the city council as published in the Bulletin of the 25th inst., I noticed that the dairymen asked that they be charged a license of $20 per year and that their dairies be inspected by the medical department. Why this request? Is it that they may have a monopoly in the milk and cream business in Edmonton? The general trend of the day is to do away with the monopolies, especially when an article of necessity for consumption is threatened. How many thrifty and hardworking widows have, to provide a necessary diet for their children purchased a cow. And are these to be obliged to use all the milk or throw it away because a license costing $20.00 per year is necessary before they can sell any to a neighbor. Why prevent the industrious farmer bringing cream into the city and disposing of it? By all means issue the license and charge $20.00 for it if they so wish it. But do not incorporate in the by-law any restrictions against the thrifty man or woman who has a few quarts of milk or cream to dispose of to his or her neighbor. This price of milk has been advanced during the last two years not because it costs any more to feed the cows but because the demand is increased and the dairymen have formed a combine to raise the price. Do not let our aldermen, to benefit a half dozen men, impose an injustice on the remainder of the people. By all means have inspection of dairies made, and charge the license if necessary to cover cost of such inspection. But do not make it unlawful to sell a quart of milk to a neighbor, which seems to be the aim of the combine. Down with monopolies, especially in necessities.

Yours truly,
JANET.

THIS IS TRULY THE IRON AGE.

Some Pertinent Facts in Regard to Iron and Iron Mining.—The Returns to Shareholders from Iron Properties Greater than from any Other Class of Investment. The Iron Mines of The Edmonton Coal and Iron Mining Company Promise Much to the Owners and to the Prosperity of Edmonton and Northern Alberta.

We often hear the expression "the iron age," but few of us realize what this term actually means when applied to the present era, as it often is.

In order to better grasp its meaning, and still further to appreciate to the fullest extent all that it entails, let us look back to the "Iron Age" of past history. In those early times when man was yet in his infancy so far as education and enlightenment goes, when life meant a continued struggle for the supremacy of the race, in short, when his best efforts were limited to an extent which it would be impossible for us in our day to imagine, his sole ambition stopped short at the manufacture of a few crude household utensils and weapons of war and the chase. How different it is with us today! Not only are we equipped with cooking utensils and arms of the finest description but, what is still more to the point, we have subjected this all important metal—the greatest of all nature's gifts to her children—to our almost every need. Not only do we use iron and steel which we may call its offspring, for our houses, but we use it for the actual construction of our largest buildings and it is daily becoming more popular. Again, our bridges, railroads, waterways, subways, docks, shipyards, vessels, in fact, all our great modern engineering feats and efforts would fail utterly were it not for the presence and the skilful adoption and use of this wonderful metal, iron.

It would not be too much to state that were we to eliminate the use of iron in its various forms from the present day commodities, not only would the commercial world be suddenly checked but we should gradually and surely drift backward to the starting point, the various branches of trade would have ceased, commercial enterprise would be a thing of the past and civilization would be a mere matter of history. Therefore viewing things from this, the only proper light, the logical conclusion we must arrive at is that this twentieth century is the real iron age, the iron age of the past being merely the embryonic forecast of the world's great future. Such being the case, it is our duty to turn to this iron age, the real side of the case and ask ourselves the question "Since iron is practically the fundamental basis of our modern civilization and since it is used to such a vast and ever-increasing extent, how is the supply to keep pace with the demand?" Clearly the field is a large one and even the great iron mines now working are not so numerous as to be able to swamp the market at their present output. There is more demand today than there ever was for a good iron mine, and this is especially applicable to certain countries and sections of countries.

Speaking of our own country—this vast Canada—with its limitless resources in the form of minerals (timber, etc.), here we have a young country, a growing country, full of great prospects and with a vast future. Unhindered by the fogs and mists of uncertainty or incompetence she looks up before us all her might. With outstretched arms she invites us to share her gifts and her future. Her dowry is an ample one, nor does she withhold it from those who have the wisdom to know her charms. Her wealth is of fine gold. Her ornaments are many and precious. Her will is of iron and as surely her will controls her actions, so surely must her iron control her future. With iron she will build her railways, the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Northern, albeit in themselves a vast undertaking being but an earnest of future and still greater enterprise. She must have also bridges, ships, machinery and the thousand and one other necessities which go to build up a large nation which she will surely one day become. Think of this, to build up a nation! Grasp the stupendous meaning which this implies and ask yourself the question "How are we going to obtain all this iron which is needed?" The answer is simple. Either Canada must import all her iron and by this we include steel, or she must supply her own iron. Would we, knowing that we have fruit in our garden, go elsewhere to obtain it at a greater cost? It hardly seems feasible. Then let us pluck what we have ready to our hand, in other words let us take hold of the vast iron deposits which we know from the best authorities and can see for ourselves we possess. Let us work them, not indiscriminately throwing away money, but with careful consideration and with due regard to location and the probable measure of success which such location promises.

There are those who would say that the average percentage of iron mines which are paying is small compared to the number of mines upon which large sums of money have been spent. Here again, notwithstanding the fact that although the number of failures in iron mines has been far less than that of any other mineral, we find a class of people who rely rather upon their own ideas of what should be, than upon the advice of experts who deal with the things that are. Such is the class who would, after losing money by their own careless speculations, decry any form of mining; who, in short impede the march of progress.

It has been said that in order to take an intelligent interest in the affairs of his country every man should study politics. How much more then should he not take an active interest in building up his country by studying its natural resources and assisting to develop them?

It almost devolves upon us as a duty, which we owe to our children and our children's children, this laying of the foundation stones of the future, and this being the age of iron it would seem that in that direction lies the work we have set ourselves to perform.

One naturally asks "where am I to start and how?" We will consider the first part of the query carefully, being guided by past experience and backed up by statistics, for these are the testimonies exacted from us by nature before she will yield up her stores in trust for future generations. Taking the iron belts on this continent of America, we find that they have their defined limits and their directions as truly as the arteries in the human body. For instance if we find the brachial artery near our arm pit and run across it again at our wrist we may safely conclude that it is the same artery, or lead as it would be termed in mining parlance. It is not our design to bewilder the reader or prospective investor with a list of iron mines making high dividends, nor do we sketch out a geographical chart of all the iron districts and leads on the American continent, but the following example will serve to show the well nigh infallibility of mining operations where carried out on the basis above illustrated. We refer to the world famed iron mines of the Mesabi range in Minnesota, U. S. A. Throughout the entire length of this range in recent years there have been many valuable claims taken up and today some of them net an enormous income to those who were far-sighted enough to invest in them. One particular case is that of a gentleman who has resided in the suburb of "Iron King" of Duluth. About twelve years ago he purchased eighty acres of timber land in the iron belt above named for the sum of $300.00. After inspecting the timber he offered to sell his property for less than he had paid for it, but no one would buy it. Some two years after he discovered that the iron oxides exposed on his land were valuable, and he sold the right to take the iron off his eighty acres to the American Steel Corporation, charging them 25 cents per ton for all the ore they took. This has netted him $8,000.00. His income from this source alone is $750.00 per day.

Almost due north some 1000 miles from this Mesabi range lies an immense deposit of iron oxide, the property of the Edmonton Coal and Iron Company of Edmonton. It is located near Edmonton in Northern Alberta, not far from the Canadian Northern Railway and close to the route of the Great Trunk Pacific, besides which it is within eight miles of the Saskatchewan river which is navigable, and is connected by wagon roads to Edmonton.

Against other experts, Mr. Wm. Plunkemore, member of Institute of Mining Engineers, England, has reported on this valuable property. He says that in his opinion the company has in this case a "most valuable asset and easily and quickly realizable, as it is more than likely from the character and occurrence of the deposits that the springs come from a stratum of ore below which could be stratified ore bearing."

Alluding to a proposed expenditure of $10,000.00 he adds "Having had thirty years experience in locating and working various iron deposits, I have no hesitation in saying that this is a valuable property and one which will justify the expenditure recommended."

The mineral deposits he finds by analysis consists of 45.2 per cent of metallic iron from surface ore and as he further states, not only could it be used to produce an excellent paint oxide, for which a market could readily be found, but it could also be used in combination with other ores or smelting, similar to that so successfully smelted at the Radnor range, Quebec province for many years.

Small wonder then that it is the valuable and immense property has excited such a stir among mining circles in various parts, not only of this country but elsewhere.
